Create your own unit study

Unit studies are a fun way to learn. You can incorporate many different subjects, activities, and games. Just pick your topic and get started.

Answer these questions in the following pages:

- What's your topic?
- What do you want to get done with this study?
- What subjects do you want to cover?
- How are you going to cover your topic?
- What books are you going to use?
- What websites are you going to use?
- What activities are you going to do?
- Do you want to write a quiz?
- Do you want to use pictures to record what you've learned?
